

URJ Summer Youth Programming Scholarship Fund

Mission Statement

To promote participation by Temple Beth Orr youth, for Informal Jewish programming that fosters future Jewish education and involvement, kindergarten through college, whose nuclear families are current members of Temple Beth Orr in good standing, at the sole review and discretion of the Temple Beth Orr Youth Committee and Informal Education Director.

Guidelines

Distributions from this fund are based upon financial need to assist in sending children to summer camp and youth programs offered by the Union of Reform Judaism.

All applications are viewed as anonymous and reviewed by a sub-committee of the Youth Committee.

Only complete applications will be reviewed; handwriting must be legible, typed responses are acceptable and all questions must be complete with requested supporting information upon submission.

Applicants may apply for scholarships from this fund once per TBO fiscal year. Financial scholarships may be awarded to any individual for up to three years towards any URJ summer youth program. First time applicants may receive up to $500 per summer. Second time applicants may receive up to $300 per summer. Third time applicants may receive up to $200 per summer. A completed application with full financial disclosure (including Form 1040) is required to be considered for financial scholarships.

Scholarships will not be awarded towards the cost of transportation to a summer program.

All monies will be paid DIRECTLY to the appropriate summer program

Application Deadline is December 5th of the year prior to the summer program for Camp Coleman and April 1st of the summer program year for all others.
